

Chill. We're here to stay.

We'll continue to make top-end mining cables in Australia.

All mining cable manufacturers, but Prysmian have fled the country. Now, rumours are claiming we're leaving too. We only have three words in response – pigs will fly! We're not going anywhere. You can rest assured we'll continue to provide the full range of top-notch cables specially designed for the tough Australian mines.

Australian made? Yes, of course.
